DATE: 10/03/2023 FROM: The WEC Committee

SUBJECT: Clarification on operation staff exemptions

APPLICABLE REGULATION

Article 4.5.3 2023 FIA World Endurance Championship Sporting Regulations

DECISION

The WEC Committee will clarify Article 4.5.3 as follow:

4.5.3 Operational staff: exemptions

Exemptions to Article 4.5.2 are listed below:

- Hospitality, motor homes and catering personnel;
- Sponsors, marketing, media and public relations personnel;
- Security personnel and truck drivers, to the extent they have no role (e.g.: rim and tyre handling) during the Competition;
- Drivers and their medical staff;
- Executives from the Competitor's parent company or sponsor brand (e.g.: President, Team Principal, Chairman, Managing Director);
 - o For avoidance of doubt, those personnel may benefit from comfort installation (such as chair and timing screens). In any case those personnel cannot be involved in the car's operations.
 - o The comfort installation access can be revocable by an ACO / FIA official at any moment.
- Design and technical support personnel, to the extent that they are not involved in car operations;
- Industry and supplier personnel, to the extent that they supply parts and/or services to at least two Competitors entered in the Hypercar category with two different homologated models of cars, sponsored by two different car brands.
- None of the personnel concerned by these exemptions may benefit from a seated position with / or without a laptop in one of the technical spaces attributed to the Competitor.
